I decided to demolish my house in West Point Grey, Vancouver, but did not know who to contract with to build my new home. I did not want just any home, I wanted better than the ordinary. I hired designers, quantity surveyors, smart home contractors, geothermal engineers, energy experts and more to effect this quantum leap forward in the home I wanted. As a former lawyer and international businessman, I canvassed the Greater Vancouver area to find the right person or company to contract with. I corresponded with over twenty (20) contractors for a period of almost one year after I had done my research on time and cost to build the type of home I wanted. Mike Amiri of MYK Construction Ltd. worked patiently with me by correspondence for over one year while the other contractors were evasive, over-priced or unresponsive. Mike was forthright and quick to answer my questions - some naive - and offer examples of his prior construction projects. At no time did Mike ever pressure or deceive me. As the other prospective contractors fell away for being wholly unsuitable, grossly over-priced or untrustworthy, Mike and a few others remained. When further scrutiny and performance was required, Mike and MYK excelled from the rest and rose to the top of my list.

Mike and his whole crew have worked diligently, politely and effectively with my architect, interior designer, project administrator and other trades and professionals to keep this project moving on-time, on budget and to the high quality specified in our contract and by my team of external professionals. To date, the house and associated laneway house is about 50% done and I am very happy with results to date. The proof of MYK's performance is manifested not only in the houses being built, which are of the highest standards, but also in my intention to build two more housing projects with MYK beginning in the last quarter of 2012.

I would be most happy to recommend Mike, MYK and his team to anyone considering contracting with MYK. I have recommended them in the past and expect to continue to do so for the foreseeable future.

MYK Construction took on a difficult office renovation for Sutton Group and did an outstanding job taking into consideration the office was open during most of the reno and trades and supplies had to work around this issue. The job was completed on time , on budget , what more can you ask.

It gives me great pleasure in stating that I was very pleased by the work performed by MYK construction in building a suite for me. The construction was completed within the assigned budget without any delays or hassles. The team was professional and very dedicated, I was kept updated with the progress at all times. In certain areas the work was better than expected. I would have no hesitation in recommending MYK construction to any of your potential customers. Please feel free to use me as a referee.

I have some more work that needs to be done so I will be calling you soon for your advise and estimates.

Warmest regards
